Europe Targets Human Rights Abusers With 'Magnitsky Laws'

LONDON - Human rights abusers will face asset freezes and travel bans under new legislation adopted by the European Union.

The so-called Magnitsky laws, officially titled the EU Human Rights Global Sanctions Regime, would target those accused of crimes including genocide, torture, assassination and arbitrary detentions.

The European Union (EU) is a group of 28 nations in Europe, formed in the aftermath of World War II.

USA, Great Britain, Canada & Australia already had Magnitsky's Laws
